Irsquo;m in my late 60rsquo;s with 5 months of 3 plus hours of practice a day. Irsquo;m a baby boomer so songs within were very attractive to me. Of the 52 about 20 I like so thatrsquo;s not bad, and of those 20 I can currently enjoy playing about 6. Itrsquo;s likely Irsquo;ll be able to grow into 15 within the next year. I canrsquo;t read music so the Tabs are important to me, and theyrsquo;re laid out well in my opinion. The problem I have right now is most songs to sound good require a faster playing speed skill than I'm capable of right now. So in short I'll have to progress in skill to an advance beginner to play most of the songs. For me having five or six songs I can play now and offering the challenge to play others is a good thing. Let's face it is you want to play songs other than Row Row Your Boat you have to get better. It's a song book I can enjoy now, and into the future. As a beginner I recommend it for anyone with 4 months or more guitar practice who anticipates sticking it out with the guitar. It's one of the better tab song books and I'm hoping to find others of equal quality with songs of the 60s that I like. So far I've found that Hal Leonard books tend to be better tab books for beginners, and I'm hoping they come out with one that has The End of the World (by Skeeter) and Deep Purple (by Nino April). (Hint- hint-hint!) Beginner Boomer Recommended! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy James R. MichelsGood selection of tunes for older folks just starting to play the guitar. 0 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Three StarsBy mrgoodbuyCould have more songs
