Deberny Type Foundry : 3,800 Early Advertising Cuts (Dover Pictorial Archive) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised 3,800 Early Advertising Cuts (Dover Pictorial Archive):

2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Interesting illustrations, but a lot of repetition
By valeryLots of cool illustrations, but sometimes a whole page can be filled with the same exact illustration with varying sizes (and they can get really small, like 1 inch--not kidding). So I found the 3,800 illustrations a bit misleading, as maybe a hundred of them or more are repeats. It's definitely not 3,800 unique drawings. A lot of them are really small drawings too. So, eh, it's okay.

By J. Manning
This book is overflowing with wonderful images. I bought it to use in my collages it's perfect. There's just about anything you'd want inside this book... farm animals, birds, flowers, fish, transportation, furniture, food, hats, military, music, etc, etc. It is full of bunches of delicious delightful images!

Here is a nearly inexhaustible supply of copyright-free graphics filled with late 19th- and early 20th-century charm, ideal for a wide range of arts and crafts projects. Reproduced from the catalog of a famous French type foundry, it is a rich and authoritative source of advertising art of the period—filled with many delightful and arresting images not available elsewhere.
