Jr. Witsell, Gordon G. Wittenberg : Architects of Little Rock: 1833-1950 before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Architects of Little Rock: 1833-1950:

Architects of Little Rock provides biographical and historical sketches of the architects working in Little Rock from 1830 to 1950. Thirty-five architects are profiled, including George R. Mann, Thomas Harding, Charles L. Thompson, Max. F. Mayer, Edwin B. Cromwell, George H. Wittenberg, Lawson L. Delony, and others. Readers will learn who these influential professionals were, where they came from, where they were educated, how they lived, what their families were like, how they participated in the life of the city, and what their buildings contributed to the city. Famous buildings, including the Historic Arkansas Museum, the Old State House, the Arkansas State Capitol, St. Andrews Cathedral, Little Rock City Hall, the Pulaski County Court House, Little Rock Central High School, and Robinson

Auditorium are showcased, bringing attention to and encouraging appreciation of the cityrsquo;s historic buildings.Published in collaboration with the Fay Jones School of Architecture.
