Isabella Beeton was known as one of Britain's first and best cookery writers. She wrote a series of articles concerning domestic issues such household management, fashion, animal husbandry, and even poisons, published throughout the 1850s. Her Book of Needlework is a lengthy educational treatise on the art form as well as a historical document of its age.

About the Author Isabella Beeton was born in 1836 and published the first edition of her Guide to Household Management in 1861 aged just 25. She has become one of Britain's best known cookery writers.
